Mae modd fel arfer i chi barcio ar ochr y ffordd o flaen Fronlas, neu mae yna le parcio preifat yn y cefn. Byddem yn ddiolchgar petaech yn osgoi parcio y tu allan i dai cyfagos.

Getting to Fronlas

By train: Llandeilo train station, on the Heart of Wales line, is a 2 minute walk from Fronlas. Walk up the steps from the platform and you will see Thomas Street on the right hand side. Fronlas is 50m on the left.

By car from the M4: Leaving the motorway at junction 49, ignore the exit for Llandeilo/Ammanford (A483). Continue along the A48 towards Carmarthen for 3.5 miles (6 km) until you reach the Cross Hands roundabout. Take the exit towards Gorslas/Llandeilo (A476). Continue along the A476 for 7.5 miles (12 km) until you reach a roundabout in the village of Ffairfach; turn left towards Llandeilo (A483). After crossing the bridge, and driving up the hill past the church, drive through the main shopping street in Llandeilo (Rhosmaen Street) and look out for CKs supermarket on the right hand side. Take the next right into Alan Road. Drive to the end of Alan Road and turn left into Thomas Street. Fronlas is on the left hand side, around half way down the street.

By car from the West/North: Enter the town at the town's northern roundabout (where the A40 and A483 meet), towards the town centre. Take the third left into Alan Road. Drive to the end of Alan Road and turn left into Thomas Street. Fronlas is on the left hand side, around half way down the street.

On-street parking is usually available outside Fronlas, or private parking is available at the rear. We would appreciate if you could avoid parking directly outside neighbouring houses.
